Weekends on Main Helped Downtown Businesses

Randy Parietti Photography

Weekends on Main, organized by the City of Littleton, was scheduled through the end of July and was a great success. Restaurants and retailers reported record numbers of diners and sales over seven weekends and are thankful to residents for supporting them.

Main Street was closed to allow al fresco style dining as 13 restaurants expanded their space into the street under the beautiful lights. Free parking was available on the side streets, at the Littleton Center, in the Reinke Brothers parking lot courtesy of the Littleton Business Chamber; and at Arapahoe Community College.

The city is considering continuing this event during certain summer weekends in future years.

17 City Employees Choose Early Retirement Expected Cost Savings of $825,000 in 2021

Seventeen employees have chosen to accept an early retirement offer, resulting in an annual cost savings estimated at $825,000 beginning in 2021 and in subsequent years. This program was developed in response to the budget shortfall created by COVID-19's impact on sales and use tax revenues. The Leadership Team has reviewed many options to reduce costs and has already cut $2.1 million through furloughs; freezing of seasonal and vacant positions; eliminating the employee market increases and 457 contributions; changes to temporary staffing levels; eliminating employee tuition reimbursement and reducing employee learning and education; putting several professional and consulting projects on hold; and reductions in parts, supplies, printing, and maintenance.

The City Manager's Office and Human Resources partnered with department directors to develop transition plans and if needed, new operation plans, as the vacancies, with rare exceptions, will not be filled for a minimum of 2-5 years. Deputy City Manager Randy Young is among those who chose to retire and that is one of the positions that will not be filled. As a result, City Manager Mark Relph has reorganized the Leadership Team and is adding, among other changes, a new Ex-

Littleton Police Train in De-escalation Techniques, Proper Use of Force

In July, the City of Littleton and the Littleton Police Department held a telephone town hall to address questions surrounding the issue of policing and social equality.

The Littleton City Council and staff share in the grief surrounding the homicide of George Floyd and support the peaceful protests that encourage care and concern for all. Racism of any kind is unacceptable and will not be tolerated in the city organization or in the community. "The city council and staff are committed to equality and inclusivity in every area of life and vow to listen, learn and do everything possible to ensure Littleton is welcoming to all citizens, businesses and visitors," said Littleton Mayor Jerry Valdes.

The Littleton Police Department (LPD) is accredited by CALEA, the Commission for Accreditation of Law Enforcement Agencies. CALEA requires compliance with more than 380 national best practices and an annual review. Fewer than 10 percent of the country's 18,000 law enforcement agencies achieve this accreditation. Chief Doug Stephens and his staff believe accreditation is a valuable tool to promote transparency and professionalism in the department.

Officers receive extensive training on anti-bias, implicit bias, community policing, de-escalation, and proper use of force. While Colorado requires law enforcement officers receive 24 hours of in-service training each year, Littleton officers receive in excess of 100 hours per year. Training is focused on reality-based, role-playing scenarios, where de-escalation techniques are emphasized to reduce the likelihood of the need to use force. Every member of the LPD completed specific training on implicit bias in April of this year, prior to the tragic incident in Minneapolis, and officers train regularly on community policing, ethics, and bias.

Littleton Police Officers work diligently to build and maintain positive and professional relationships with everyone in the city and are committed to treating all with respect. The LPD greatly values the bond it has built with the community and will continue to work to strengthen this partnership.

Early Retirements

Executive Team comprised of Police, Museum/Library, Communications, Public Works, and the Assistant to the City Manager. The Executive Team will also include two new departments. The Administrative Services Department will include the internal services of Human Resources, Information Technology (IT), and Finance and be led by IT Director Ashley Bolton. The Community Services Department will join the departments of Economic Development and Community Development and be led by Kathleen Osher. Samma Fox, Assistant to the City Manager will lead the Municipal Court and the City Clerk's Office.

While retail and general use sales tax collected in May reflects a decrease of approximately 29 percent and 24 percent respectively, the combined reduction is 29 percent or approximately $740,000 as compared to May 2019.

COVID-19 is having a significant impact on the city's short-term and potentially long-term financial picture. Seventy-eight percent of general fund revenues are generated from sales and use tax, which will be greatly reduced. Revenue from licenses and permits, charges for services, and fines and investment earnings, will also likely be affected. Potential general fund revenue losses in 2020 could range between 10 and 24 percent, or from $4.6-$9.6 million.

To prepare for possible future budget reductions, the Leadership Team reviewed their current budgets and identified structural changes to address the expected revenue reduction. These will be considered in developing the 2021 budget but could be implemented sooner if needed.

Staff will continue to monitor all revenues over the coming months. This will allow more time to be strategic regarding long-term impacts to both the community and employees.

Littleton Post Office Receives Local Landmark Designation

The Littleton Post Office was listed on the National Register of Historic Places last year and on June 16, the Littleton City Council approved local landmark designation. The National Register of Historic Places is the federal government's official list of districts, sites, buildings, structures and objects deemed worthy of preservation for their historical significance.

The recent designation of the Littleton Post Office will bring the number of locally-designated properties in the downtown neighborhood to 40. Designation of the Littleton Post Office will help protect the historic character and integrity of the structure for the enjoyment and appreciation of future generations.

Although properties owned by the federal government are not subject to local land use regulations, including the city's historic preservation requirements, landmark designation will serve to highlight the significance of the structure and raise awareness of its importance to the historic character of the community. The Littleton Post Office is located at 5753 South Prince Street in Downtown Littleton.

Road Work on Federal and Bowles

Construction began at the intersection of Federal and Bowles during the last week of May and is scheduled to be completed in August. Voters approved the TABOR override in 2017, providing $545,000 for upgrades. This was enough funding to move forward with safety improvements, but not enough for the ultimate intersection changes. The work implemented safety improvements for bicyclists, pedestrians and vehicular traffic. Federal and Bowles is the city's highest accident intersection not involving Santa Fe Drive. This location has a history of accidents related to sight lines for drivers, pedestrians, and cyclists as well as a mix of arterial streets and recreational trails. The location carries 46,000 vehicles daily and in the last five years, 108 accidents occurred including three involving bicycles and pedestrians. The safety measures are designed to reduce the number of accidents.

State Approves Expansions for Restaurants, Gyms, Houses of Worship and Malls

Gyms, restaurants, houses of worship and indoor malls will have more flexibility in use of their space due to the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment's June 29 approval of Arapahoe County's request for a variance. Approval was based on the low disease prevalence of 3.91 percent in Arapahoe County but could be modified or rescinded if the percent positive goes above five percent.

The maximum capacity for all indoor and outdoor spaces, in order to achieve six feet distancing, is 50 percent of the posted occupancy code ensuring a minimum of 28 square-feet per person not to exceed more than 175 people gathered in a confined indoor space at any given time, and not to exceed 250 people in an outdoor space.

Further information about the variance can be found at arapahogov.com/Civicalerts.

Littleton Business Recovery Grants Phase II

The Littleton City Council approved Phase II of the Littleton Business Recovery Grant May 26. City staff revisited all remaining applications submitted during Phase I. Forty-nine additional business owners met the eligibility requirements and received $2,500 to help alleviate the impact to their business due to COVID-19. Previously, Phase I resulted in 60 business owners receiving $2,500 each. Both phases total $272,500. The city has requested these grants be reimbursed under Littleton's allocation of the CARES Act.

City council and staff will review additional opportunities for business recovery grants through the CARES Act. For more information on the recovery grants or to see the list of businesses visit littletongov.org.

Shareback Funds Will Improve Harlow and Hamlet Parks

The City of Littleton received $1.28 million in Shareback funds from Arapahoe County Open Space (ACOS). A total of $15.7 million was distributed to 12 incorporated cities and towns to support parks, trails and open space projects.

In 2020, some of the more significant projects will include replacement of the Harlow Park asphalt tennis courts with post-tension concrete surfacing, upgrading the ball fields and adding concrete walks to the ball fields for ADA compliance.

Other improvements include replacement of the Hamlet Park playground and planning for upcoming projects including improvements at Berry Park, Ida Park, Southbridge Park, Jackass Gulch, Slaughterhouse Gulch and near Reynolds Landing. ACOS and Jefferson County Open Space funding also contribute to the maintenance and operational costs of South Platte Park and the Carson Nature Center. Funds from the quarter cent sales and use tax are allocated according to population.

Black Lives Matter Solidarity March

Larry Thompson Sr., chair of Littleton's Next Generation Advisory Committee, addresses a crowd that marched from Sterne Park to the Littleton Municipal Courthouse for a Black Lives Matter rally June 18. The peaceful march was escorted to the courthouse by the Littleton Police Department, and was attended by members of the Littleton Public Schools Board of Education and the Littleton City Council.

WWW looks forward to bringing the community the grandest Grand Parade in 2021!

The board and staff want to thank the sponsors and the community for their continued support and understanding.

Updates for Downtown's Land Use Code and Zoning

City council adopted Phase I amendments to land use codes to address conflicts with the Comprehensive Plan relative to downtown development earlier this year. The council intends to further amend the land use codes to address additional issues including: open space and building height requirements, massing/step-backs, transition zones, front set-backs, sub-division of lots, and parking relative to downtown development. The draft amendments were reviewed and public comments received throughout the month of July. The next steps include the Planning Commission public hearing to consider the amendments on August 31. The first reading for city council's consideration of the amendments is scheduled for September 15, with second reading and public hearing October 6.

Concurrently, the city is following through on the priority recommendation of the Comprehensive Plan to update its regulatory framework by launching the transition to a Unified Land Use Code (ULUC) with consultants Kendig Keast Collaborative (KKC). The ULUC will replace Title 10, Zoning Regulations; Title 11, Subdivision Regulations; portions of Title 4, Building Regulations pertaining to Mobile Homes and Mobile Home Parks and Historic Preservation; and the Downtown Design Guidelines. The ULUC is an 18-month process of discovery that will continue through October 2021. A draft of the Unified Land Use Code is expected on June 1, 2021 for public comment and review.

New Police Records Management System

The Littleton Police Department (LPD) has a new web-based Records Management System (RMS) to allow information sharing with other law enforcement agencies in Arapahoe County. LPD can now partner with the Arapahoe County Sheriff's Office; and Englewood, Greenwood Village, Glendale, Cherry Hills Village, and Sheridan Police. This web-based product also allows an officer to complete reports on the road, search for data within the system and has greater reporting capabilities.

LPD implemented a Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) system in 2018 that is shared among the same agencies. The CAD integrates with the new RMS allowing data sharing from the time a call is first received in one of the 911 centers to the case completion. A CAD call can be forwarded to another agency if needed or shared if there is a multi-agency response allowing the data entry obtained by the 911 center to be seen by the agencies in real time.

In 2019, a CAD to CAD link was put in place for the law enforcement agencies to share calls with South Metro Fire Rescue and vice versa allowing for quicker response times and alerting a 911 center that law enforcement is needed at a medical call, or if medical is needed at a crime scene location.

Each agency has the ability to limit views and determine the depth of the information sharing with other agencies. The CAD and RMS run on a secure network with redundancy within the Arapahoe County Emergency 911 network.

Participants use an online application system and vouchers are redeemable at one of eight participating Home Depots. Program details can be found at MowDownPollution.org.

Hot, Dry Weather Leads to Higher Water Bills

Denver Water planners are buckling up for a long, hot summer and advising customers to keep a close eye on their water use. Water use typically rises in summer throughout Denver Water's service area, as customers are watering lawns, gardens and landscapes. The additional water use leads to higher monthly water bills, due to Denver Water's three-tier billing structure that's based on the idea that the more you use, the more you pay.

"Water use continues to be higher than normal due to hot, dry weather," said Ryan Shepler, one of Denver Water's water use planners. "Since May 1, the weather has been hotter and drier than 88 percent of previous years."

This year, water use among all residential customers in May was 22 percent higher than normal. Among single-family residential customers, water use was 32 percent higher than normal in May. Denver Water's summer watering rules, instituted in 2005, are in place until October 1. For more information about the watering rules and the Colorado drought monitor visit Denver Water's website.

Two Exciting Shows at Town Hall Arts Center

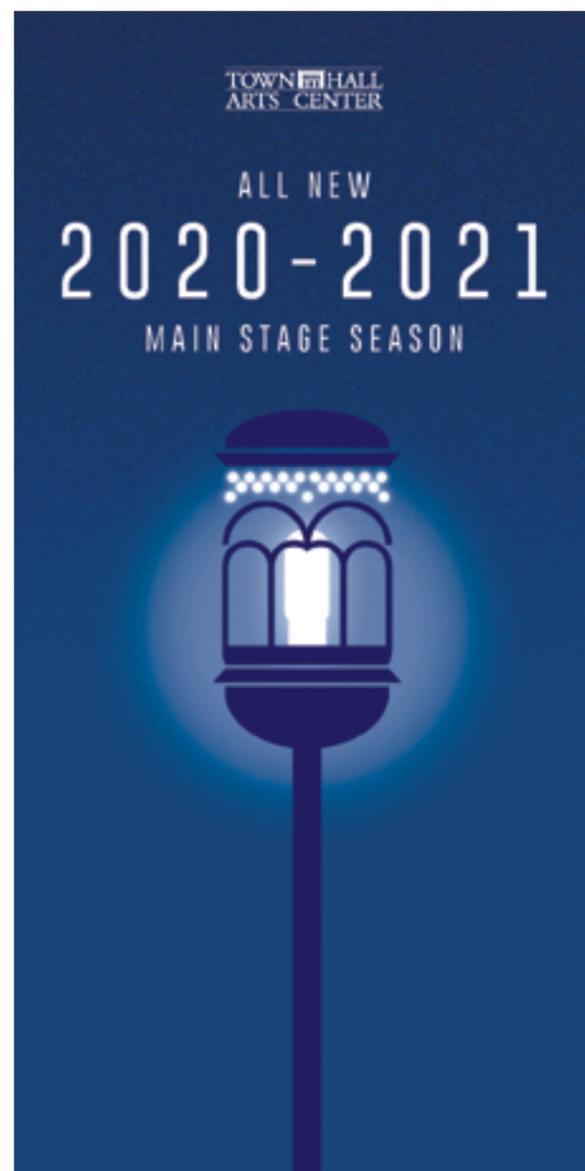

Almost Heaven - September 11-October 11

Almost Heaven weaves together fan-favorite John Denver's songs to create a uniquely theatrical narrative that reflects upon the country during the late '60s and early '70s. Twenty-nine of Denver's songs - including "Rocky Mountain High," "Sunshine on my Shoulders," "Leaving on a Jet Plane," and more - are rediscovered and reinvented in this gorgeous musical tribute. The show is conceived by Harold Thau with orchestrations, vocal arrangements, and music by Jeff Waxman, and directed by Nick Sugar. For ticket information visit townhallartscenter.org.

Spotlight Series - Almost Heaven

Get in on the Spotlight Series discussion at Town Hall Arts Center (THAC) as it presents Almost Heaven. Join Arapahoe Community College Music Professor Charles Haarhues to talk about the legacy and impact of John Denver's music in Colorado and the western United States. Tickets are $5 or free for students with school ID. Get tickets at townhallartscenter.org or call 303-794-ARTS ext. 5.

THAC is following state and local guidelines around the COVID-19 virus, as well as adhering to OSHA requirements. In addition, THAC is instituting new safety guidelines to help keep staff, students, and patrons safe. These preventative measures are intended to help prevent the spread, however there are no guarantees against this invisible foe. THAC will take all precautions it can to safely create theatre. Guests are asked to take this into account when making the decision whether to attend Main Stage productions. Masks are required upon entering the building.

Floodplain Letters to Residents

The Mile High Flood District (MHFD) and the City of Littleton are sending letters to residents affected by the newly-adopted Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) floodplain revisions for Little's Creek.

In 2013, Littleton City Council adopted a revised MHFD floodplain delineation that is now incorporated into FEMA mapping. Some properties may be required to obtain flood insurance, while other properties, that were previously required to carry insurance, may no longer have to. For more information about MHFD and FEMA floodplain mapping visit the Mile High Flood District website.

Big Dry Creek Floodplain Update

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) is revising the one percent chance flood mapping and elevations for Big Dry Creek, as a result of a new floodplain study by the Mile High Flood District. Portions of Big Dry Creek are in Littleton, between Littleton Boulevard and Santa Fe Drive. In the city, the changes consist mostly of lower floodplain elevations and a smaller floodplain area. Owners of a home or business next to Big Dry Creek who would like to know more about the pending changes and how they might affect their property can contact the city floodplain administrator at 303-795-3836.

Census Takers to Start Canvassing Neighborhoods

A little more than 70 percent of Littleton households have responded to the 2020 Census, and over 60 percent of Colorado households have responded. Those who haven't completed the census can expect a visit from a census professional at their residence. In-person census takers will begin canvassing neighborhoods August 11.

Between September 22 and September 24, the Census Bureau plans to send specially-trained census takers to count people at shelters, soup kitchens, regularly-scheduled mobile food vans, and locations previously identified by the Census Bureau where people are known to sleep outdoors and at all-night businesses. Complete the 2020 Census online now at 2020census.gov.

Sewer bill due in August

The city's annual sewer and storm drainage bill is due soon.

A single-family residence inside the Littleton city limits is $274.29 per year for sewage treatment and maintenance of city sewer lines. For those who are in a sanitation district, the fee is $208.17 per year.

A multiple-family residence inside the city limits is $233.12 per dwelling unit for sewage treatment and maintenance of city sewer lines. For multiple family residences in a sanitation district, the fee is $176.93 per unit.

A residence outside Littleton city limits for a single-family is $249.80 per year for sewage treatment and maintenance of city sewer lines.

A multiple-family residence outside the city limits is $212.31 per dwelling unit for sewage treatment and maintenance of city sewer lines.

The commercial rate for inside Littleton city limits is $5.03 per 1,000 gallons of water used and for outside the city limits it is $2.74 per 1,000 gallons of water used.

Storm drainage rates are applicable only to properties located inside the city limits. Single-family units are a flat $47.73 per year and commercial properties are based on the impervious area of the property.

Payment is due by August 15. If payment is not received within five calendar days after the due date, a delinquent penalty of 15 percent of the balance due will be assessed. The city will be unable to accept payments after 5 p.m. October 15. Unpaid balances will be sent to the county for collection via property taxes. If any of these dates falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the payment due date will be extended to the next business day.

The city accepts cash, check, credit card and electronic fund transfers. For questions or inquiries, call 303-795-3772.

Downtown Littleton Streetscapes

City of Littleton Planning and Engineering staff recently worked with two talented graduate students from the University of Colorado Denver's Master of Urban and Regional Planning (MURP) program. The MURP directs students to complete a capstone project on behalf of a real-world client. Organizations and local governments are invited to submit capstone project proposals and students choose a project that suits their interests. The capstone project allows students to apply what they've learned in developing a final plan and set of recommendations.

Two MURP candidates, Jon Brachna and Gabby Masucci, chose to complete a capstone project for Littleton from January to May 2020. The focus was on imagining a new streetscape for Main Street and Alamo Avenue that would bring both streets into compliance with the Americans With Disabilities Act and create a safe, beautiful, vibrant place for residents, workers, and visitors.

They were exposed to the different communication methods used among city departments to achieve common goals. Although COVID-19 restrictions prevented in-person public meetings, the students experienced a city government adapting to maintain public forums through remote means. The students attended a remote public engagement meeting and gave their final presentation to the Historic Preservation Board and Planning Commission using the city's Zoom capabilities.

Masucci learned about policies, regulatory documents, and the appropriate application of different streetscape improvements, which has deepened her interest in multimodal transportation planning. Brachna found the experience to be valuable for two reasons: he now has a better understanding of how a client-based project works in a local government setting; and has experience reimagining public spaces for both pedestrians and vehicle use in a unique setting. Both Masucci and Brachna said the time with the city was a valuable component of their education; it taught them the importance of flexibility and patience in a time of uncertainty.

Changes to Plan Review Fees and Collection Process

The City of Littleton Building Division is making changes to the collection of the plan review fee process. Previously, the city collected plan review fees at the time of permit issuance.

Effective June 15, fees are due at the time of application for a permit, and must accompany it in order to be processed. Plan review fees collected at the time of application will be based on project valuation, which may be adjusted during the review process. Littleton Museum opens Vibrant Bounty: Chinese Folk Art from the Shaanxi Region

Vibrant Bounty: Chinese Folk Art from the Shaanxi Region, opens August 14 at the Littleton Museum. The exhibit invites visitors on a journey through Shaanxi Province, one of the cradles of Chinese civilization. The capital city, Xi'an, was once the eastern terminus of the ancient Silk Road, and is famous for its extensive archaeological finds, most notably the Mausoleum of Qin Shi Huang and his Terracotta Army. In an area outside of the city's center lies Huxian (or Hu) County, where, since the 1950s, local artists have been producing objects similar to the 25 paintings and 14 objects found in Vibrant Bounty. This tradition has achieved great renown in China, culminating in the state Ministry of Culture awarding Huxian the honorary title of a "village of Chinese Modern Folk Painting" in 1988.

The artifacts included in this collection expose China's rural life and show, in detail, traditional Shaanxi customs. They range from children's clothing and toys to New Year's prints and decorative household items, often embroidered with lucky figures and animals. Not only are they carefully handmade and beautiful, they also hold symbolic wishes for good luck, good marriage, and good health. Both the art and the objects featured in this exhibition introduce a region of China, which, like so many parts of rural America, is dominated by agriculture and populated with hard-working people. Through these folk art paintings and the artifacts which accompany them, visitors gain a greater understanding of the customs, culture, and humanity of a people, who, despite great distances, share essential similarities. This exhibition was organized by ExhibitsUSA, a program of Mid-America Arts Alliance.

Vibrant Bounty: Chinese Folk Art from the Shaanxi Region runs through October 17. If the museum is closed due to COVID-19, the exhibit will be accessible virtually on the museum website and social media. Follow the Littleton Museum on Facebook and Instagram, or the Littleton Museum's webpage for updates.

Only Rain Down the Drain

With a few exceptions, illegal discharges and dumping to the storm drains, pipes, creeks or rivers are any substance that is not rainwater or snowmelt. Hazardous waste is just one example of an illegal discharge, but it is not the only thing prohibited from being dumped into storm drains. Report anything suspicious to the city stormwater hotline, 303-734-8299, or contact the Public Works/Engineering Department at 303-795-3836.

Remember: only rain down the drain!
